

Professional development opportunity

For conductors who aspire to bring the best out of their ensemble

CONDUCTING ESSENTIALS

Getting more from your musicians

'Conducting Essentials' is an interactive workshop for up to six participants to develop conducting skills. The aim is to provide a unique, exciting and practical learning experience that will enhance each participant's knowledge, skills and realisation of his/her own conducting ability and the effect it has on the sound of the ensemble.

Workshop 1: 3hr workshop

What do you mean it's me?

Do you want your band to sound better? Do you feel like you have tried every trick in the book and still they don't improve? Chances are, it is your conducting technique.

This workshop will open your mind to the elusive world of conducting. Get ready to be blown away!

Conductors of all abilities are catered for and David will customise his approach to each individual participant based on their previous and current experience.

Workshop 2: 3hr workshop

Make it happen

Put the skills gained from the first Workshop into practice whilst acquiring customised feedback. In this clinic you will:

1. Prepare and conduct a score with an ensemble
2. Explore mood and focus on strengths or weaknesses
3. Experiment with alternate conducting techniques and hear how they noticeably improve the sound of the ensemble
4. Gain instant feedback and afterwards, watch your session to evaluate your presentation.
